Gynecologic Ultrasound

Valuable Ultrasound Specialty Education & CME Opportunities!

Join the AIUM Gynecologic Ultrasound Community Leaders as they examine challenging cases in both the pregnant and non-pregnant patient through the use of gynecologic ultrasound. This series is especially beneficial for radiologists, OB-GYN MDs, emergency medicine MDs, sonographers, and trainees. Attendees can earn up to 2 CME Credits and share their perspectives with colleagues through a live Q&A session.

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

At the conclusion of the Gynecologic Ultrasound Lecture Series, attendees should be able to:

- Diagnose urgent and non-urgent gynecologic problems by ultrasound including entities that might present in the first trimester of pregnancy;
- Analyze the differential diagnoses for the presented cases; and
- Apply the learned information to daily practice.

REGISTRATION FEES REGISTER TODAY!
